3.1 INTRODUCTION

Pruszków is district town in central Mazovia (central Poland; Fig. 3.1) that currently serves as a bedroom community for Poland's capital, Warsaw. Today, it is a very quiet town without heavy industry, but this was not always so. The historical and cultural heritage of the region, reaching back to ancient times, is linked to the consequences of the Industrial Revolution in the 19th century and the tragic events of World War II. Museum exhibits at places like the
